

Long Lake ♦ Raquette Lake Winter Fun

Jerry Waskiewicz

A FAMILY TRADITION

Raquette Lakers pitch in to harvest ice every February. Here, Scott Reller and Beeba Norris stand on an ice floe of scored blocks as they push thinner strips toward a channel cut through the thick ice. The channel leads to a conveyor belt, which picks up the huge blocks and lifts them onto a truck to go to the icehouse.

LONG LAKE LUNKER

Randy Powell of Lake George shows off the huge northern pike he pulled from Long Lake on Presidents' Day 2009. The 45-incher was taken on a 2.5-inch shiner on a treble hook.
